Ensemble à la Carte is made up of musicians from the greater Washington, D.C., area and is dedicated to exploring the vast variety of styles, arrangements and timbres used in chamber music (i.e., served up on our menu). Although the core of the ensemble consists of the traditional woodwind quintet (flute, oboe, clarinet, bassoon and French horn), the ensemble expands and contracts to perform music written for as few as 2 instruments to as many as 13. In addition to performing fabulous music, Ensemble à la Carte's concerts are a treat for all of the senses—including traditional program notes, fun and informal conversations about the music and composers, and a “meet and greet” reception following the concert. It's their way of saying thanks for coming and inviting you to become part of their chamber music family.

Your donation is tax-deductible to the extent allowed by law.
